Targeted Online Advertising and Opt-outs:

We or our online marketing and advertising providers may use information about your activities on our Sites or other websites to help tailor our advertisements or offers to your interests. With some of our Sites, we provide information about your online activities to third-party advertising companies, or allow those advertising companies to collect the information using cookies and similar technologies, and allow the advertising companies to combine that information with information they collect on other unrelated sites to provide you with relevant, targeted advertising. This sort of online advertising is called cross-context behavioral advertising under the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA) or targeted online advertising under other laws. We do not knowingly share personal information for cross-context behavioral advertising of users under the age of sixteen.

Some states provide individuals the right to opt-out of the "sharing" or "selling" your personal information for cross-context behavioral advertising or of "targeted advertising" based on their personal information. You may opt-out of this sharing or the targeted advertising via the "about ads/do not sell or share my personal information" link in the footer of our website and then selecting "Opt out of targeted online advertising" or by visiting our preference center and selecting "Opt out of targeted online advertising."

Some browsers offer a setting called "Do Not Track." Although we do our best to honor the privacy preferences of our visitors, we may not be able to respond to all "Do Not Track" signals from your browser.

Opt-out choices may be browser, device and/or website specific. If you access other Allstate family of company websites, you may need to make a separate selection for each. Also, clearing cookies or browsing history will erase your opt-out selection. You may continue to see generic or non-targeted ads about our products and services if you opt-out of sharing for cross-context behavioral advertising or targeted online advertising.
